

U.S. Representative Ed Case

Summary of Legislative Efforts to Assist Maui

My office and I remain fully focused on assisting all of our families and communities affected by the August 2023 Maui wildfires. I have joined my Hawai'i Congressional delegation and our state, local and community partners in assuring that our federal government does all it can to respond fully at all levels to this tragedy.

While the federal response has been generally positive, clearly much more remains to be done, starting with continued federal funding for survivor assistance and recovery efforts. I have pursued and continue to pursue this assistance primarily through my Appropriations Committee, including my Homeland Security Subcommittee with jurisdiction over our main federal agency currently helping Maui, the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). As one example, I spoke about how FEMA's assistance has been extremely valuable to the recovery process in a hearing with the then-Acting Administrator of FEMA in my Appropriations Homeland Security Subcommittee.

Wildfire Prevention Plan

- Worked with federal and local leaders to create a comprehensive guide to federal resources to assist our Hawai'i in preventing, mitigating and responding to continuing wildfire risks across the state. It has guided my efforts to maximize federal assistance toward preventing, mitigating and responding to any other wildfire disasters statewide. Some successes thus far included the following provisions in the House's FY2026 draft appropriations bills:

- $123 million for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Wildlife Damage Management Program.
- $360 million for the FEMA Staffing for Adequate Fire and Emergency Response Program.
- $360 million for the FEMA Assistance to Firefighters Grants Program.
- Direction to our military to identify investments needed to support wildland firefighters located on Schofield Barracks that support any wildfire on O'ahu.
