

U.S. Representative Ed Case

Native Hawaiian Legislative Accomplishments (2019-2026)

Supporting our Native Hawaiian community throughout Hawai‘i and our country continues as one of Rep. Ed Case’s top priorities throughout his service in Congress. He endeavors to uphold the unique special and political trust relationship between Native Hawaiians as the indigenous peoples of Hawai‘i and the United States by supporting federal programs, funding and other efforts benefiting Native Hawaiians.

Rep. Case’s focus on Capitol Hill for Native Hawaiians is grounded in the following objectives:

- Recognizing Native Hawaiians as an indigenous people of our country with a political and legal status supported by federal law and over a century of Congressional enactments, and with the same basic rights as our nation’s other indigenous peoples for the same reasons.
- Listening to our Native Hawaiian community, including cultural practitioners, educators, health providers, business owners, government representatives, housing advocates and community supporters of our ‘ohana, keiki and kūpuna.
- Defending, strengthening and expanding key federal laws and regulations for the benefit of our Native Hawaiian communities in areas such as health, education, business, federal contracting, housing, veterans and social services.
- Securing full and fair federal funding for Native Hawaiian-focused programs and ensuring accountability by federal agencies responsible for administering these programs.
- Building broad bipartisan support for indigenous peoples generally and Native Hawaiians directly with colleagues in Congress and across the federal government, in part by educating them on Hawai‘i and Native Hawaiians and in part by assisting them with their specific issues, all toward advancing indigenous peoples collectively and strengthening broad support of Native Hawaiians.
- Upholding opportunities for self-determination, with conversations on self-governance centered on the voices of Native Hawaiians.
- Pursuing the preservation and stewardship of our precious natural resources as central to Native Hawaiian cultural identity and practice.
- Supporting Native Hawaiian ‘ohana and Native Hawaiian-serving organizations in accessing federal programs, removing administrative barriers and assisting with specific goals, questions and needs in engaging with federal agencies.

The following is a summary of some of Rep. Case’s initiatives on key bills, cosponsorships, votes, appropriations achievements, joint letters, statements and other efforts related to Native Hawaiians.
